

Mohammed Adel was born in Kuwait on 12 February 1980, and his passion about the sea came from his youth.

He started diving in Egypt in 1996 where he did his entry level course while studying accounting at Alexandria University; he managed to get some working experience as a diver in Alexandria and three months later back in 1998 he became a dive master.

In 2000, Mohammed moved to the Red Sea and started to work as full time dive master moving between Hurghada, Safaga, El Quesir and Marsa Alam, where he gained experience as a PADI professional.

In 2002, he attended his PADI instructor development course and became a PADI instructor; right after; in 2003; he started to work on a 5 star PADI IDC Centre and progressively moved up the ladder in the PADI system becoming a PADI IDC staff in 2004.

Between 2004 and 2009, Mohammed worked as Operations Manager for The Dive Tribe – 5 star diving centre located in El Gouna, in his mind still was the idea to move upwards in the PADI system.

In 2008 Mohammed was selected to attend the Course Director Training Course in Malaysia and became the youngest Egyptian PADI Course Director early that year. He was rated as a PADI Silver Course Director from in 2008 and 2009 due to his high number of certifications achievements

Mohammed joined the Euro-Divers team in 2010 to take care of the Instructor Development Center of Euro Divers Club Med El Gouna and continue his passion turning passionate divers into dive professionals

Mohammed speaks and teaches in Arabic, English and French.
