

PADI Professional Courses

with Euro Divers, Oman

If you would like to trade your office job for a life underwater or have the desire to travel the world, completing a PADI Divemaster or PADI Instructor Course is the first step in making those dreams come true.

During the course you will learn more about dive theory, teaching students, along with perfecting your dive skills and have fun doing it! You will have one of our very experienced staff members mentoring you as well as the opportunity to learn from other instructors. We have the luxury of having an in house PADI Course Director who is always available as well as many other Instructors who have a wealth of experience and are ready to share! You will get to teach or assist of real courses including PADI Open Water, Advanced Open Water, Rescue and maybe even some PADI specialties.

Throughout your course you will have the opportunity to visit all the marvelous dive sites in Oman, not just stuck on the house reef. We will teach you all aspects of the dive industry and we want you to leave prepared to work as a dive professional.

If you want to complete you PADI Divemaster Course for more experience and don't have plans to work in the dive industry, no amount of diving will give you the experience of the Divemaster Course.

Euro Divers is fantastically placed in the Diving Industry, offering a suite of programs that meets the needs of both career trackers and also career changers. These packages suit people who have decided that diving is either a career they would like to try for a while, or are looking at travelling some time and want an easily portable vocation and toolset to carry with them. It also suits people looking for a complete career change later in life or to use their resettlement funding from a previous career, as these packages can be tailored to suit your current qualifications also. We ensure the package meets your needs, but we also ensure the delivery of them is both unique and the most professional available.

We ensure you leave with paper qualifications but more importantly solid experience of the industry having had involvement in all facets of it.

For many diving professionals the decision to "Go Pro" was one that was inevitable, and here at Euro Divers we are able to cater for individual needs, with off the shelf and tailor made packages to help you reach the top. For many divers the idea of becoming a PADI Divemaster or Open Water Instructor is an ultimate goal - yet there is no need to stop there. Our range of packages suit those either looking for an ultimate career change or to the individual taking time out to continue their diving education in small steps each time. If a package is a close fit but not exact we can even tailor it to suit you.

PADI COURSE DIRECTOR

Justin Mayers is the PADI Course Director for Euro-divers Oman.

He has been in the diving industry since 2000 working full time as a PADI Instructor and since 2007, a PADI Course Director. He has been based primarily in Koh Tao, Thailand, but now he is permanently living in Malta managing a dive operation and conducting their IDCs. For the last 5 years he has been awarded the Platinum Rating for PADI Course Directors. He has a 100% pass rate and genuinely enjoy what he does.

The IDC is a fairly relaxed affair but the schedule may change slightly with respect to the open water presentations depending on diving conditions. Please bring your laptop and, if you have, a hard drive and he will bring some good digital information that you will find useful for you future teaching.

He is offering a pre IDC theory and skills sessions on the two days leading up to the IDC which may benefit you with a good theory refresh of your physics, physiology, decompression theory and equipment, in addition to a full skills review in the nearby swimming pool. He also has some practice exams that he will send to you to see where your knowledge is at the moment.

During the IDC you'll have fun, learn a lot and get lots of practice teaching in different environments and you will find that it is the perfect preparation for the Instructor exam.

Once the IDC in Oman is completed he will be running PADI Instructor specialities. These will include Enriched Air Nitrox, Deep, Wreck, Emergency O2 Provider and a few others that we can discuss during the IDC. When you have 5 PADI Instructor Specialities and have certified 25 PADI Student Divers you can apply for the MSDT Rating. There is a team teaching program available at Euro-divers that will help you reach those numbers..
